

Formula-Calculator Deluxe 2.0

Description

This program excellently combines the highest Kabbalistic knowledge with the most advanced technology.

Created with great effort and attention to detail, this software holds maximum potential for your unique life path.

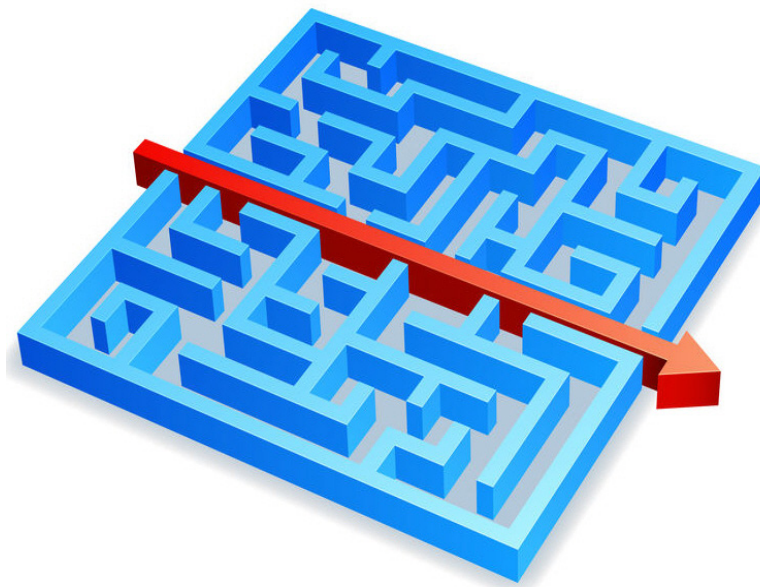

In its basic function, you can visually display any formula from the second to the fourth level (with all analogy information) and play the corresponding tones. Additionally, each individual letter of the German alphabet can be retrieved and represented in its correct analogy. A special feature is the integrated 3-SK trainer, allowing you to learn all formula properties.

The high-quality graphics provide you with the perfect support for the 3 senses concentration (3-SK) for all formulas, with the color, element (including emotional correspondence) and meaning associated with the respective letter, as well as the correct tone, which was recorded with a piano.

Furthermore, your unique and individual formula can be determined from over 531.441 combinations based on your name, birthdate, and current residence. This formula includes the most suitable letters for the Akashic principle, Mental, Astral, and Gross material planes specifically tailored for you.

The Formula-Calculator Deluxe 2.0 offers you 3 separate modes of operation (whereby the corresponding tones can be played in each mode automatically or by clicking on the letters):

- Representation of a single letter with all analogy information and description of all 4 levels of manifestation (Akasha, Mental, Astral, Material)
- Representation of a formula, consisting of up to 4 letters, with all analogies
- Calculation of your universal formula with detailed evaluation, which is tailored to your current situation in order to achieve quick and maximum success. If you have a middle name (consisting of second or third names), this will also be included in the evaluation by marking it specifically when entering it. (See below for examples.)

Advantages:

- Your individual formula is a novelty that contains all the essential aspects and properties for you and your development in its basic building blocks.
- The usually very time-consuming and tedious search for THE REALLY APPROPRIATE formula is no longer necessary !
- The third letter, which corresponds to the Astral plane, is further potentized on the basis of universal laws, thus increasing its effectiveness.

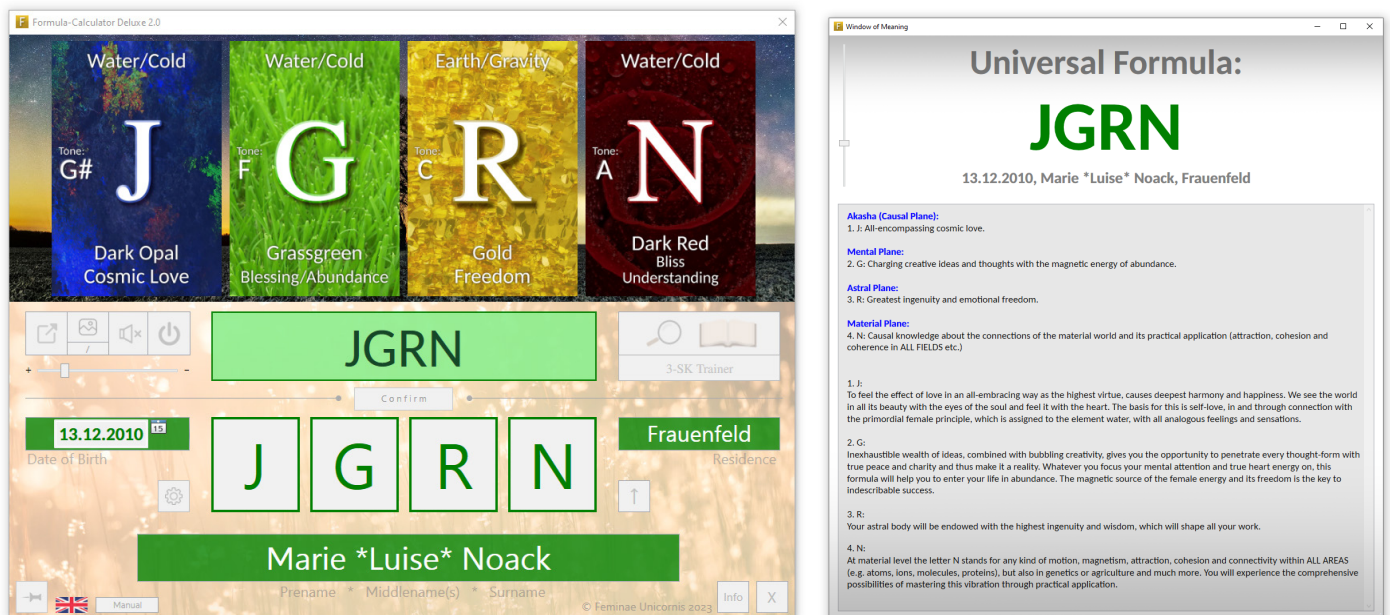

Note: The indication of your current place of residence establishes the optimal relationship to the life situation and the circumstances to be changed. Real change always happens in the PRESENT and thus has an influence on the entire past (= relief) as well as on your future (= realization).

- You will receive a detailed written evaluation of the final result.

Thus, the Formula-Calculator Deluxe 2.0 becomes a constant and faithful companion in your formula practice and lets you experience the true Kabbalah in the most effective, magical, individual and instructive way.

TESTIMONIALS:

"...the last few days I have been "topping up" the formula several times a day - so far without any unpleasant consequences. Especially before sleeping, because it makes for vivid dreams. And during the day I have noticeably many constructive thoughts and impulses. So it's definitely already having an effect."

"Thanks for asking, we are doing quite well with the power formula so far. We can already feel the power emanating from this formula. We often look at the printed formula so that we can also absorb it visually."

"There have been no significant incidents so far. In the last few nights, I've often dreamed of my former workplace. However, my husband had quite irritable cough symptoms for 10 minutes today, which is perhaps an "initial aggravation" in the homeopathic sense."

"Yes, formulating is now much easier. My need is met with this formula. I am very close to myself. Spatial, temporal, informational concerns such as 'I still have to go there to' or 'I need to wait until' or 'I'm looking for something to' have become calm"

"I'll tell you briefly what effect the formula calculator has had on me. It really got me thinking about one of my main issues, namely financial security. Last November, about 3 months after buying and regularly using my personal formula, I dropped out of a particular insurance company with which I had had a very favorable rate for 15 years and thought that I had saved a lot of money over the years. I was then forced to look for a new one (health insurance) and now have to pay about three times as much every month as I used to. That really annoyed me at first. Of course, I thought and feared that I was now losing a lot of money unnecessarily every month to an insurance company whose services I would hardly ever need. A while later, however, it became apparent that my business was running better, as if a blockage that I had not noticed at all over the years had gone. Suddenly I had more customers, and I felt that I could charge somewhat higher prices.

I realized that I had limited myself and kept myself small by being so careful over the last few years. I had effectively tripped myself up without realizing it. I used to use certain wealth formulas (GGG, GOGH etc.), but without any real success, which always surprised me a little. Healing crises were not part of my previous formula experience, so to speak. And when a crisis came, I changed my formulas. I always expected a positive change, but without wanting to change myself and without letting go of what was holding me back. I now confidently use my personal formula almost exclusively (with a few occasional exceptions) because I think this "micromanagement" of all the more specific formulas is not only ineffective but also dangerous, because you are driven by your ego, your mind, from formula to formula. Transformation processes may be activated, but they are not sustained. It is better to really only use this one formula as a methodology, which leads you safely through such processes, even if it feels bad at first or undesirable changes happen at first."

"I started formulating my formula in November 2019; with the formula activator, usually before going to bed, for about 3-4 minutes. I could feel the energies building up from time to time. I became mentally and emotionally aware of very old issues that were increasingly pushing their way into my daily consciousness and that I wanted to look at. It was mainly about fears. Repressing them was simply no longer possible. As a result, I was able to tackle the issue of "I don't have the courage to tell my boss my personal opinion". In tears, I gathered my courage and told my boss everything that touched me, which was very relieving for me. And as the next very courageous step, I resigned shortly afterwards... I want to trust myself and nature! Thank you very much for the wonderful formula calculator . "
